

Project 1 - Government Financing Support Programmes for Industrial Sectors

Development I (Industrial policy)

1. Project

An approach of governments for stimulating the industry is to implement financing support programmes (e.g., special loans). In this project, you are asked to examine the effect of the financing support policies implemented by the government on different sectors of industry in Iran. You may want to focus on a specific program or section, or check out several. And you can make use of any method and software you like.

2. Essay question

What financing support policy is the most efficient way to stimulate industrial sectors? Successful examples of these policies have been implemented by Iran or other countries? What criteria should be considered for prioritizing different sectors? (500 words)
